

To our Beloved Customers,

The times we are living have brought us new habits.

Maybe some of us are discovering their talents in home cooking and maybe we will give you tips on Italian cuisine.

However, due to the low volumes of orders, we cannot ensure the freshness of our food, one of our main assets that we are not willing to give up.

For this reason we took the decision to close temporarily.

In the meantime, we hope to work on some new recipes for when the time for reopening will come.

Finally, we want to thank from the bottom of our hearts everyone who supported us in these past weeks.

Stay strong, be safe, and always focus on the positive. Everything will be okay.

Guido and all the OPPI'Z staff
